

Dave Cullen is a journalist turned author. He graduated from the University of Colorado Boulder and has written stories for the New York Times and many other outlets.

COLUMBINE

Praise for Columbine and Dave Cullen

“Excellent... a fine example of old-fashioned journalism”

Washington Post

“Exhaustive and extremely level-headed... remarkable clarity and coherence.”

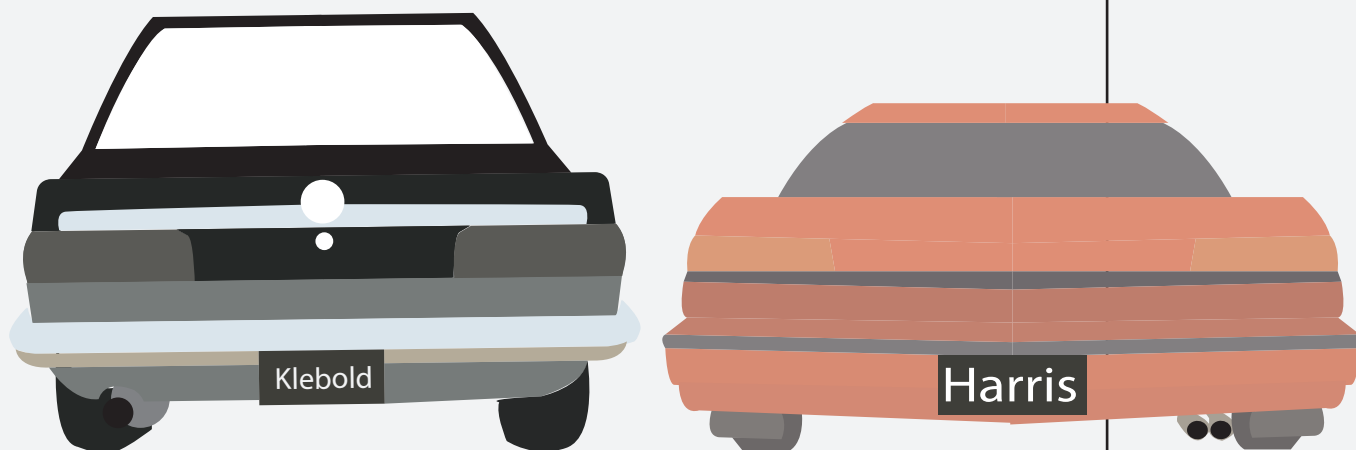

New York Times Book Review

“Debunks many myths...wide range of fascinating detail.”

Wall Street Journal

“Ambitious and ultimately compelling.”

USA Today

COLUMBINE Dave Cullen

L

U

M

B

I

N

E

Dave Cullen

“On April 20, 1999 two boys walked into their high school...with the goal to leave “a lasting impression on the world.””

Columbine is a compelling account of the shooting that took place in 1999. This novel brings you everywhere from days before, the day of, and even years later. You walk through the lives of everyone from the two shooters, victims, and survivors. This heartfelt story answers the question: “Why?” And also debunks much of the misinformation that we have heard about this tragic event.

GRAND CENTRAL PUBLISHING

